SECTION 1 – PREFACE TO GUIDANCE ON UNAUTHORISED ENCAMPMENTS

- 1.1 I lead the ACPO Gypsy and Traveller Portfolio, which is part of the Race and Diversity Business Area. The purpose of the Portfolio is to work towards developing normal community relations between Gypsies and Travellers and settled communities. Unauthorised encampments are one of the issues that stand in the way of this. They will continue to be a feature of life in this country until such time as there is adequate provision of lawful sites, and there are no signs of this being achieved in the near future, hence the need for this Guidance. It is intended to help police officers respond to unauthorised encampments in a consistent way, balancing the human rights of Gypsies and Travellers, with those of landowners and the wider public.
- 1.2 New Guidance around Gypsies and Travellers is being issued by the National Policing Improvement Agency (NPIA) and this Guidance document should be read alongside the NPIA Guidance.
- 1.3 This Guidance is the end product of considerable consultation, and I hope it contributes to mutual respect and understanding. I am particularly grateful for the advice received from Gypsies and Travellers in its completion.

Assistant Chief Constable
Warwickshire Police

SECTION 2 - GUIDANCE ON UNAUTHORISED ENCAMPMENTS

2. Introduction

- 2.1 This document is guidance covering the options to be considered in dealing with any people who trespass on land owned by another with an intention to reside.
- 2.2 The Race Relations Act (RRA) 1976 makes it unlawful to treat someone less favourably on the grounds of colour, race, nationality or ethnic or national origins. The following of a nomadic lifestyle is lawful, indeed it is a culture that is recognised and protected through legislation. Romany Gypsies and Irish Travellers are protected under the RRA. Additionally, the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000 puts a General Duty on the police to have due regard to the need to eliminate unlawful racial discrimination and promote equality of opportunity and good relations between persons of different racial groups. There is no legal right to trespass, however, and the law provides a wide range of powers to remove people unlawfully on land.
- 2.3 The establishment of an unauthorised encampment can raise many concerns with the landowner and neighbouring members of the settled community. Some of these concerns are unfounded, and may be based on ignorance and prejudice; however there still remains a significant number of encampments that cause high levels of anti-social behaviour and disproportionate disruption to the community into which they move.
- 2.4 This document explains the framework within which our staff should act, recognising the requirement to balance the needs of a range of interested parties. The decision to use police powers remains at the discretion of the senior officer present. His/her decision, however, should be made in accordance with this guidance, and the grounds for any action/inaction fully recorded. Any decision to evict must be made in conjunction with the relevant on duty senior officer.
- 2.5 It is essential that the police response takes account of the issues of behaviour, whether criminal, anti-social or nuisance, in combination with the impact on the landowner and settled community rather than simply because encampments are present at a specific location. Police powers to evict people from unauthorised encampments do exist, as provided for by Sections 61 and 62 A-E, Criminal Justice & Public Order Act 1994, (CJPOA 94). These powers will be used where behaviour or conduct is considered to be inappropriate, or where the impact of an encampment on others is deemed unacceptable. This position is consistent with all other areas of enforcement within the community. Guidelines on the exercise of police powers concerning unauthorised encampments are given in Section 6 of this document.

- 2.6 Decisions to evict or not must, of course, be balanced (as directed by legislation and Government guidance), and be compliant with the terms of the Human Rights Act 1998, demonstrating legality, necessity, and proportionality, as well as principles of common humanity. The grounds for each decision must be fully recorded by the decision maker and kept for audit processes or legal challenge for seven years.
- 2.7 The scope of this guidance does not cover the situation whereby individuals purchase land and occupy it, with or without planning permission. Such an incident would be an unauthorised development and the local / borough council would lead in this situation.
- 2.8 In managing unauthorised encampments officers must be sensitive to the fact that there is a lack of pitches on authorised sites across the country, making it difficult or even impossible for people to avoid setting up unauthorised pitches.

SECTION 3 - OPERATIONAL TACTICS

3 SUPERVISION OF ENCAMPMENTS

- 3.1 All police decisions and actions must be made in compliance with the provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998. Any action should only be such as is necessary for public safety, the prevention of crime or disorder, the protection of health, or for the protection of the rights and freedom of others.
- 3.2 All police actions should be conducted in a manner compatible with the operational principles of safety, lawfulness, necessity, proportionality and common humanity. Actions should be completed in a manner that is the least intrusive to achieve the purpose. It is necessary to achieve a balance in the protection of the rights and freedom of all persons concerned with a specified unauthorised encampment.
- 3.3 Where appropriate, it is recommended that the police visit newly established encampments, and that a local supervisory officer be informed. Visits should, wherever possible be done together with the landowner, Local Authority, and other relevant agencies. PCSOs should only be deployed to encampments as part of the local neighbourhood policing team response, not in relation to confrontational situations with the occupants of unauthorised camps when they are being initially set up.

- 3.4 Initial contact should be made with the people on the site, and an assessment made of the impact of its location, as well as the behaviour displayed by the occupants. The occupants should be spoken to; to establish their identities and location of last site, and to ascertain their views on desired duration of stay as well as any pressing welfare needs.
- 3.5 Officers should identify any offences disclosed or apparent e.g. criminal damage caused to gain entry to land, obstruction of any footpaths or other highways, any other anti-social behaviour.
- 3.6 Officers should discuss with those present what constitutes unacceptable conduct. They may consider it appropriate to give them a copy of the recommended Code of Conduct, attached at Appendix B.
- 3.7 Officers should assess whether the location of the encampment, behaviour of residents or needs of the landowner justifies an eviction using police powers.
- 3.8 Liaison should be maintained with the landowner, those most affected by the establishment of the encampment and our partner agencies to assess the need for Police intervention. In accordance with guidance issued by the Department for Communities and Local Government (CLG) in England (or the Welsh Assembly Government (WAG) in Wales) the Local Authority, as lead agency for unauthorised encampments, should take an active role in engaging with the site residents and will in particular take the lead with sites established on their land, which do not require immediate Police action. Periodic visits by police officers to the site can also be beneficial to get to know site residents and also to pick up on any community tensions that may give rise to more serious incidents. These visits will be enhanced if completed along with designated Local Authority staff members. The absence of such visits will not prohibit the future use of police powers, but may help in justifying the use of these powers if this proves necessary. These visits will also provide an audit trail to support decision-making.

- 3.9 It is suggested that attending officers should complete an initial site assessment. A suggested form for this is attached at Appendix 'C'; to be used by the senior officer present to determine the potential need to evict using police powers. This will usually only be the case where criminality, anti-social behaviour, or environmental damage is present (see Section 6). The decision whether or not to utilise police eviction powers should be periodically reviewed to establish if circumstances have changed that will require the use of a police eviction to protect the rights of others. All information concerning the site and the site occupants should be shared with all involved agencies (subject to the provisions of the Data Protection Act), to ensure that a balanced common approach is adopted in fairness to all.
- 3.10 Assessment visits should only log details of vehicles and people where there are grounds to suspect those individuals of anti social behaviour or criminal activity.
- 3.11 Where appropriate, vehicle and/or any person details should be checked on the Police National Computer (PNC) for 'markers' (which if present should be acted upon as appropriate). Any criminal intelligence should be submitted in the normal format using intelligence systems.
- 3.12 A separate log should be created for each unauthorised encampment notified to the Police. Any calls from the public relating to the encampment, or directly attributable to its occupants, should be recorded within the log, including any complaint calls.
- 3.13 Forces should ensure that there is a clear audit trail of decision making which sets out the rationale for all decisions made. A suggested Eviction Rationale Record is attached at Appendix D. Where separate Command and Control logs are created for specific incidents, which relate to the encampment, these should be 'incident-matched' to the main log once concluded. At the conclusion of the occupation of the encampment the log should be endorsed suitably with the outcome, including any eviction powers used, and the general behaviour and conduct of the residents.

SECTION 4 - COMPLAINTS

- 4.1 Police may receive complaints relating to the behaviour of occupants at unauthorised encampments, or from the occupants relating to other people. The initial police response to such calls should, of course, be the same as for any other incident, and graded on its priority. If attendance to see a complainant is appropriate, or to investigate a report, then an appropriately staffed police resource should attend to investigate.

- 4.2 The allegation of a crime or identification of an individual suspect at an encampment should not be grounds alone for consideration of a full group eviction. However, if the grounds exist that require the use of S61 Criminal Justice & Public Order Act 1994, there is power to evict that individual and his/her vehicles. Indeed, this approach complies fully with Human Rights legislation and underlines the aim of dealing effectively with issues of anti-social behaviour. The factors must be weighed accordingly, and a decision taken on the necessary and proportionate action required, and so action that may be considered will include the giving of advice, arrests, eviction or a combination of all.
- 4.3 Where occupants at unauthorised encampments are victims of crime or anti-social behaviour, they must be given access to services in the usual way. If there is a perception that the incident is racially motivated then the matter should be dealt with in line with Hate Crime policy.

SECTION 5 – WORKING WITH OTHER AGENCIES

- 5.1 Forces should consider working with local authorities to agree Joint Agency Protocols for the management of unauthorised encampments. Forces should also consider establishing a liaison officer to work with local authorities on the implementation of joint protocols. This should be progressed within local Crime & Disorder Reduction Partnership (CDRP) forums in England, within Community Safety Partnership (CSP) forums in Wales, or through the Local Strategic Framework.
- 5.2 Lead role for decision making should rest with the local authority and the use of police powers should not normally be considered as a first response.
- 5.3 On occasions other agencies may request police officers to accompany them to an encampment to assist them for a lawful purpose. Such assistance is a matter for local discretion. Officers must take care to ensure that they do not become agents for the other parties, and on such occasions maintain neutrality from the other's purpose, but to provide reassurance to all involved that the peace will be maintained.

- 5.4 Where there are no authorised sites, and the authority reaches the view that unauthorised gypsy encampment is not causing a level of nuisance which cannot be effectively controlled, it should consider providing services, such as toilets, a refuse skip and a supply of drinking water at that site.

SECTION 6 – USE OF POLICE POWERS

- 6.1 The lead role in the management of Unauthorised Encampments will be with Local Authorities. Forces should consider becoming involved in bringing about the prompt and lawful removal of unauthorised encampments, including the use of police powers under Section 61 or 62 of the Criminal Justice & Public Order Act 1994 where:

i) Local amenities are deprived to communities or significant impact on the environment.

This could include, for example, forming an encampment on any part of a recreation ground, public park, school field, village green, or depriving the public use of car parks. The fact that other sections of the community are being deprived of the amenities must be evident before action is taken.

ii) There is local disruption to the economy.

Local disruption to the economy would include forming an encampment on a shopping centre car park, or in an industrial estate, if it disrupts workers or customers, or agricultural land, if this results in the loss of use of the land for its normal purpose.

iii) There is other significant disruption to the local community or environment.

This might include where other behaviour, which is directly related to those present at an encampment, is so significant that a prompt eviction by police becomes necessary, rather than by other means.

iv) There is a danger to life.

An example of this might be an encampment adjacent to a motorway, where there could be a danger of children or animals straying onto the carriageway.

v) There is a need to take preventative action.

This might include where a group of trespassers have persistently displayed anti-social behaviour at previous sites and it is reasonably believed that such behaviour will be displayed at this newly established site. This reasoning will take on greater emphasis if the land occupied is privately owned, as the landowner will be responsible for the cleansing and repair of their property.

- 6.2 The mere presence of an encampment without any aggravating factors should not normally create an expectation that police will use eviction powers. This should be communicated to the public, landowners, local authorities, and other agencies. If a decision is made to use police powers to evict then the rationale for the decision should be clearly set out and recorded. As stated above, a suggested eviction rationale record is set out at Appendix D.
- 6.3 In all cases, as stated above, relevant Human Rights processes must be applied to all decisions made i.e. that the elements of S61 are satisfied, and that it is necessary and proportionate to use the powers. Section 61 Criminal Justice & Public Order Act relies upon reasonable steps being taken, by or on behalf of the landowner, to ask trespassers to leave in every case before police powers can be used. A flow chart setting out the police powers to evict under section 61 of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 is set out at Appendix E.
- 6.4 The six recommendations for the Police, published in 'Common Ground' by the Commission for Racial Equality Inquiry, (a summary of which is set out below), should be incorporated into all police actions concerning Gypsies, Irish Travellers and unauthorised encampments.

"Police forces should:

- Include Gypsies and Travellers in mainstream neighbourhood policing strategies, to promote race equality and good race relations.
- Target individual Gypsies and Travellers suspected of anti-social behaviour and crime on public, private and unauthorised sites, and not whole communities, and work with people from these groups and local authorities to develop preventive measures.
- Treat Gypsies and Travellers, both when they are victims and suspects, as members of the local community, and in ways that strengthen their trust and confidence in the force.
- Provide training for all relevant officers on Gypsies' and Travellers' service needs, so that officers are able to do their jobs more effectively, and promote good relations between all groups in the community they serve.

- Review formal and informal procedures for policing unauthorised encampments, to identify and eliminate potentially discriminatory practices, and ensure that the procedures promote race equality and good race relations. (See also recommendations in chapter 4).
- Review the way guidance is put into practice, to make sure organisations and individuals take a consistent approach, resources are used effectively and strategically, all procedures are formalised, and training needs are identified."

Unauthorised Encampments

Code of Conduct

To ensure those members of both the settled and travelling communities can live together in a peaceful and unprejudiced way we expect you to comply with this Code of Conduct. We expect you to treat the land you have occupied with respect, and that you respect the rights and freedoms of other people who also wish to use the area.

Behaviour that may result in your eviction from a site includes the following:

- Camping upon any land designated as a public amenity, such as parks, recreation areas, school fields and similar locations (not an exhaustive list).
- Interfering with the rights and freedoms of other members of the public, including interrupting the operation of legitimate businesses.
- Forcing entry to land, by causing damage to any fixtures, fittings or landscaping (including planted areas). This includes digging away of earthwork defences, which have been placed at landowner's expense to prevent trespass.
- Causing any other damage to the land itself, or property on it. Particular care should be taken not to cause damage to those features provided as public amenities.
- Driving vehicles along any footpath, or other highway not specifically designed for road vehicles. This practice is not only unlawful but is also highly dangerous.
- Parking vehicles or caravans on any road, footpath or other highway that causes an obstruction to other people wanting to pass by. This includes parking immediately next to footpaths.
- Dumping or tipping rubbish, waste materials or trade waste such as tree cuttings, rubble, etc. It is your responsibility to keep the site clean and tidy. Council Traveller Liaison Officers can direct you to Civic Amenity Sites (Council tips) where you will be able to pay to dispose of trade waste.
- Use of the area as a toilet. You must not deposit or leave human waste openly in public areas.
- Abuse, intimidation or harassment of any person who is lawfully using the area.
- Excessive noise or other forms of anti-social behaviour.
- Animals that are not kept under control or that attack persons lawfully on the land, or nearby.
- Interference with electrical, water or gas supplies. Any person(s) found abstracting electricity, or wasting quantities of water may be subject of criminal proceedings.

These codes are the same standards of behaviour that are expected of the settled community. The police are committed to ensuring that all policing issues that affect you are balanced; however behaviour that is deemed unacceptable within society will not be tolerated.

POLICE EVICTION POWERS

SECTION 61 CRIMINAL JUSTICE & PUBLIC ORDER ACT 1994
FLOW CHART AND GUIDANCE NOTES

IF:-

I believe that two or more of you have entered the land as trespassers, that you have a common purpose of residing on the land

- Who is the landowner?
- Are there 2 or more people?
- Have they entered the land as trespassers?
- Are caravans or other 'living' vehicles present?

and that reasonable steps have been taken by or on behalf of the person entitled to possession of the land to ask you to leave

- What reasonable steps has the landowner taken to ask the trespassers to leave? e.g.
- Verbal request: (supported by written statement)
 - Are there witnesses to the request?
 - Have notices been served requesting them to leave - who served them, and how. Were they displayed prominently?
 - Do the Police have a copy of any notice served?

I FURTHER BELIEVE THAT:

One or more of you has caused damage to the land or property on the land

- Damage can be ANY damage e.g.
- Padlock to gate
 - Digging away earth mounding (cost money to have put in place or to repair)
 - Could be litter in worst cases or engine oil contamination etc

OR

One or more of you has used threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour towards the occupier, a member of his family or an employee or agent of his.

- Equivalent to Section 5 Public Order Act
- Only applies to landowner or agent – NOT all members of public
- Will the victim provide a written statement?

OR

You have between you six or more vehicles (including caravans) on the land

- Vehicles includes motor vehicles and caravans
- Where S61 applies, consider this Guidance.

THEN S61 MAY BE APPLIED. IF IT IS,

- S61 Notices must be served and copies kept (carbon)
- Details of people and vehicles must be recorded
- A 'reasonable' time (in the circumstances) must be given for them to leave the land
- Trespassers welfare issues must be taken into account

FAILURE TO COMPLY

- Power of arrest - any person who fails to comply without reasonable excuse to leave the land
- Power to seize any vehicle not removed

HUMAN RIGHTS TESTS

Is the eviction proposed:

- Legal - are the elements of Section 61 present?
- Necessary - is it necessary to evict the group?
 - Would other policing methods suffice e.g. high profile patrols, or individual arrests for other offences?
- Proportionate - is the decision balanced?
 - Have the needs of the landowner or settled community been balanced with the needs of the trespassers?
 - Do all the trespassers need to be evicted or can specific individuals be identified?
- Accountable - is the rationale behind the decision recorded and available?

DECISION MAKING GUIDANCE

- It is recommended that decisions to evict be made by an Officer not below the rank of Inspector.
- All decisions, whether to evict or not to evict, will be recorded, including with rationale.
